Breaking News!

Drama on the Tarmac – [Foxnews.com] Gov. Jan Brewer of Arizona defends herself against Obama's charge that she treated him unfairly in her book (Click pages 162-163 for the pages that got Obama's shorts in a wad) "Scorpions for Breakfast" in a heated exchange on the tarmac at Sky Harbor airport in Phoenix on Wednesday. After her fiery defense she might want to write a sequel to her book and call it "Obama for Breakfast". I'm sure it would be a Best Seller. The real issue is all about illegal immigration and Obama's lawsuit against Arizona for enacting SB-1070, a tough immigration law that seeks to stop illegal immigrants from coming into Arizona. The feisty Governor wants to tighten up the border between Arizona and Mexico and the Obama Administration wants amnesty so they can get the Mexican vote, illegally, of course. Click Obama disturbed by Brewer book for video of Greta Van Susteren interviewing Gov. Brewer about the exchange. In this interview Gov. Brewer says that Obama walked away from her while she was in mid sentence. An Obama quote from the Fox article says "I think it's always good publicity for Republicans if they're in an argument with me". His actions and his words are typical of a certifiable Narcissistic egotist. This would also be a good time to click on Stand by your Jan to read the parody I wrote earlier this year. This is a parody of "Stand by your man" sung by Tammie Wynette back in 1968. I'm coming out with another shorter cd featuring parodies already recorded about immigration, Jan Brewer, and Obama. It will have "Stand by your Jan" on it. Haaa! Here's a challenge for you: everyone who emails me at Halmitch@cox.net with your idea of a caption for the above picture of Gov. Brewer poking her finger in Obama's chest I will send a copy of my new cd for free. Don't forget to give me your address if you participate. The new cd will be available in about a week. FYI: I met Gov. Brewer a few months ago when she was in Tucson at Barnes and Noble for a book signing of her "Scorpions for Breakfast" book. I bought the book which she autographed and I gave her my Sing Along With HalMitch cd which has "Stand by Your Jan" on it. She was very pleased to get it. Janet Brewer is a good Christian lady and good Gov.
