

Miss Otis Regrets

By Fred Astaire
And Barrie Chase

Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today,
Madam.

Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today.
She is sorry to be delayed,
But last evening down in Lover's Lane she strayed.

Madam.

Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today.

When she woke up and found, that her dream
of love was gone.

Madam.

She ran to the man who had led her so far astray.

And from under a velvet gown,
She drew a gun and shot her lover down,
Madam.

Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today.

When the mob came and got her and dragged
her from the jail,

Madam,

They strung her from the old willow cross the way.

And the moment before she died,
She lifted up her lovely head and cried,

Madam.

Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today.

Miss Otis regrets... she's unable to lunch today.

The POTUS* regrets he's unable to lunch today,
Madam.

The POTUS regrets he's unable to lunch today
(And why not, James)

He is sorry to be delayed,

But last evening he went to Allah and prayed.

Madam.

The POTUS regrets he's unable to lunch today.

(And what happened, James?)

When he woke up and found, that Allah had let him down,

Madam.

He ran to the Imam who had led him so far
astray,

And from beneath his tarnished crown,
He drew a gun*and shot the Imam down,
Madam.

The POTUS regrets he's unable to lunch today

When the radicalized mob came and got him
and dragged him from the jail,

Madam.

They strung him from the old willow across the White House way

And the moment before he died

He lifted up his achy-breaky heart and cried,

Madam.

The POTUS regrets he's unable to lunch today!
